HOUSE BILL NO. 6821

Introduced by:

Honorable DAVID C. SUAREZ

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Article 11, Section 15 of the 1987 Philippine Constitution provides that "the State shall protect and promote the right to health of the people and instill health consciousness among them."

Every day for the past months and certainly with increased intensity, we have witnessed the unfolding of another public health emergency, one of a different nature and order of magnitude: the global spread of the coronavirus disease (Covid-19).

A "public health emergency" is defined as an occurrence or imminent threat of an illness or health condition, caused by bio terrorism, epidemic or pandemic disease, or a novel and highly fatal infectious agent or biological toxin, that poses a substantial risk of a significant number of human fatalities or incidents or permanent or long-term disability (WHO/DCD, 2001).

The Covid-19 outbreak had spread to six continents and approximately 210 countries and territories worldwide have been affected by the disease. As the hot spots of the Covid-19 pandemic move and grow, the death toll rises. Unfortunately, there are currently no known treatments against the respiratory virus. Thus, the Covid-19 pandemic has already been declared as modern history's gravest health emergency by many countries.

There is an old adage by Benjamin Franklin that states that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." This bill is fostered upon such wisdom by seeking to uphold the role of medical and health-related personnel in nation-building, promote and protect their physical, moral, spiritual, intellectual, and social well-being; to inculcate in them patriotism and nationalism; and to encourage their involvement in public and civic affairs.

This bill establishes a Medical Reserve Corps who may be called upon to strengthen national response and preparedness in addressing the medical needs of the public in times of national emergencies.

In view of the foregoing, the approval of this bill is urgently sought.
