AN ACT TO FURTHER STRENGTHEN THE OFFICE OF THE SOLICITOR
GENERAL, AMENDING FOR THE PURPOSE REPUBLIC ACT NO. 9417 AND APPROPRIATING FUNDS THEREFOR

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The daunting and sensitive legal duties of the Office of the Solicitor General (OSG) show that there is an imperative need for the amendment of Republic Act No. 9417 or "An Act to Strengthen the Office of the Solicitor General by Expanding and Streamlining its Bureaucracy, Upgrading Employee Skills and Augmenting Benefits, and Appropriating Funds therefor and For Other Purposes." This bill seeks for the further strengthening of the OSG as an institution, as well as providing its lawyers and employees benefits and privileges already being enjoyed by their counterparts in other government offices.

In particular, this bill aims to upgrade the rank of the Solicitor General from Presiding Justice of the Court of Appeals to an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. The Solicitor General is the government official authorized to appear before the courts and defend the government, its departments, agencies and instrumentalities, Congress included. This crucial role played by the Solicitor General substantiates the upgrading of the qualifications for appointment, rank, category, prerogatives, allowances, emoluments, benefits and privileges of the Solicitor General to that of an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

And while R.A. No. 9417 already provides that Senior State Solicitors and State Solicitors of the OSG shall have the same rank, salaries, and privileges as that of trial court judges, many benefits provided for by R.A. No. 9946, otherwise known as an Act Granting Additional Retirement, Survivorship, and other Benefits to Members of the Judiciary, like retirement under R.A. No. 910, are reserved for members of the judiciary only.

Ironically, the counterparts of Senior OSG lawyers in the National Prosecution Service (NPS) and Public Attorney's Office (PAO) already enjoy many other benefits, which senior OSG lawyers are deprived of. There is a need, therefore, to equalize the benefits and privileges received by these government lawyers by similarly affording them the same prerogatives, salaries, allowances, benefits and privileges given to their counterparts in the Judiciary, NPS and the PAO.

Being the most heavily case laden lawyers of the government, OSG lawyers carry many responsibilities and face hazards to health and limb. The brutal and cold-blooded assassination of model public servant Assistant Solicitor General Nestor J. Ballacillo, a Civil Service Dangal ng Bayan Awardee, and of his son Benedict last 06 December 2006 is clear proof of this.

The amendments on survivorship, authority to borrow and increase of the OSG's share in monetary awards or assets given by courts to client departments and assets awarded to the government in forfeiture proceedings to 20% also serve to further strengthen the OSG by increasing its source of income for the payment of the mandated benefits and expansion under R.A. No. 9417.

In view thereof, the expedient approval of this bill is strongly recommended.
