EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 960

Introduced by Representatives Ron P. Salo

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Philippine Public Safety College (PPSC) was created pursuant to Section 6 of Republic Act 6975 and mandated to be the premier educational institution for the training, human resource development, and continuing education of all the uniformed personnel of the Philippine National Police (PNP), Bureau of Fire Protection (BFP) and the Bureau of Jail Management and Penology (BJMP). In its 25 years of existence, it has provided mandatory career training and higher and continuing education to 572,882 PNP, BFP, BJMP and other public safety and law enforcement personnel. Through a systematic and progressive delivery of programs and courses administered by its six constitutive units, namely, the NPTI, PNPA, NPC, NFSTI, NFTI and the NJMPTI, it has contributed to the human resource development, professionalization and organizational growth of the interior, public safety and criminal justice institutions.

Indeed, the context and the challenge by which PPSC was created 25 years ago have become broader and more complex. In the 21st century environment, public safety and security issues and concerns are wide-ranging, sophisticated and daunting. Pandemics, natural disaster, climate change, transnational organized crimes, terrorism and violent extremism, cybercrime, protection of critical infrastructures, biosafety hazards and other emerging threats expand the domains of public safety and bring into fore a more comprehensive and integrative homeland security orientation for the country.

It is in this light that the need to strengthen the Philippine Public Safety College and elevate its status as the premier and specialized professional training and higher educational institution for public safety and homeland security is paramount and necessary. The need for a more advanced and responsive and effective structure that caters strategically to the overall capacity and competency building and knowledge resource requirements of the public safety, law enforcement and homeland security institutions is fully supported.

This is further echoed by the National Security Policy (NSP) 2017-2022 that directs PPSC, alongside with other educational institutions, to exercise, aside from its existing mandate, to be primarily responsible for training competent policy analysts, security planners and intelligence officers and for training future generations of national security leaders and managers.

In view of the foregoing, the approval of this bill is urgently sought.
