EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to strengthen, rationalize and professionalize the practice of stem cell therapy. It seeks to create the Professional Regulatory Board of Stem Cell Therapy and the Philippine Society of Stem Cell Medicine as integrative and professionalizing units to improve stem cell therapy practice in the Philippines.

Countries like the United States, South Africa and Singapore have discovered the potential in health and medical research to find solutions to diseases such as cancer, heart attacks and other cardiovascular anomalies, Parkinson's and different birth defects.

With the increasing number of Filipinos suffering from terminal and extreme diseases, finding a medical breakthrough for their cure should be prioritized. The establishment of a stem cell research and storage center is the first step towards addressing this concern. It restores the hopes of Filipino patients who may have lost the chance to live a normal life again.

At the same time, because this is a young and novel practice, there is a need for government regulation to protect the public from abusive and unlearned practice of stem cell therapy. There have been many cases of unauthorized practice of stem cell therapy in the Philippines and abroad which have deceived hopeful patients into letting go of hard-earned money. Such unauthorized practices may also lead to deleterious effects to the health and welfare of patients.

In light of all these circumstances, the swift passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
