EXPLANATORY NOTE

"Ang sinumang hindi marunong tumingin sa kanyang pinanggalingan ay 'di makakarating sa kanyang paroroonan.", is probably one of the most oft quoted adage in our rich heritage. It is a reminder to us to never neglect those who have played a role to mold us into the people we are today. It also reminds us to pay respect to people who have spent a portion of their existence to make sure ours would be a little bit better – our elders. With these values strongly entrenched in our culture, by and large the elderly in our society are cared for by their respective families such that they are protected and live with their basic necessities secured in the twilight years of their life. But this notwithstanding, as in all cases there are those of our senior citizens who are abused and harassed by worse men, our elderly unable to protect themselves as the strength of their youth are but a memory. This bill now proposed provides added protection for our elderly, and aggravates penalties to abuses of their rights.

Section 11, Article II of the 1987 Constitution provides that; "The State values the dignity of every human person and guarantees full respect for human rights." Section 4, Article XV also provides that; "The family has the duty to care for its elderly members but the State may also do so through just programs of social security." To this end, the State engages to protect our senior citizens who are more prone to abuse and because of their weaker state, have less physical and mental agility to defend and provide for themselves. As the number of older Filipinos grows proportionally in this country, this bill seeks to provide special protection for senior citizens through the prevention and deterrence of acts inimical to the security and safety of our senior citizens. This Act will likewise provide them with legal remedies for immediate protection such as protection orders that victims may avail of. The State must help our senior citizens claim their rights so they can lead dignified and secure lives.
