Explanatory Note

Our country is ravaged year after year by numerous emergencies of all sorts. From lahar flows which devastated most parts of Luzon, volcanic eruptions, earthquakes and typhoons which routinely pummel the country every year, to the disaster in Irosin, Sorsogon brought about by the Mount Bulusan eruption, and the 2007 bombing in Glorietta 2. This just goes to show that emergencies of one sort or another are a fact of life which will always pose challenges for us as a nation.

The best we can do is to be prepared and to be on the lookout in order to prevent emergencies from intensifying into full-scale disasters. Through this piece of legislation, the undersigned proposes the creation of a permanent, full-time national agency under the Office of the President to help the country plan and prepare for emergencies. It is proposed that this agency take over the National Disaster Coordinating Council (NDCC) and undertake disaster mitigation and preparedness measures as well as quick response mechanism which will allow us to reduce the risks of disasters, mitigate possible damage to life and property, initiate rapid and effective response to disasters, and effectively manage post-disaster recovery.

Hence, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly enjoined.

HON. GARY C. ALEJANO
