EXPLANATORY NOTE

The trade of meat from dead or diseased animals has become prevalent in the country especially in Metro Manila. This practiced has jeopardized both consumers and producers, by endangering health and disturbing market stability. Despite the serious consequences however of the trade and the consumption of these types of animals, penalties under RA No. 9296 of the Meat Inspection Code of the Philippines are insufficient. In order to protect therefore the consuming public and the legitimate producers, this measure which was previously filed by Senator Pangilinan in the 15th Congress, is being refilled today. The passage of this bill is earnestly sought now in the 17th Congress.
