EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 1968

Introduced by MAGDALO Party-List Representative
HON. MANUEL DG. CABOCHAN III

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Article 2, Section XVIII of the 1987 Constitution declares that the "State affirms labor as a primary social economic force. It shall protect the rights of workers and promote their welfare". However, the present condition of Doctors of Medicine working in government hospitals and public health institutions runs counter to the aforementioned policy.

The entry level for resident physicians in government service is Php 40,637 as Medical Officer III. Although it is atypical for the Department of Health to confer Medical Officer I or II positions, local government units can do so. A junior resident physician who holds a position of Medical Officer I is entitled to a meager basic salary of Php 27,755. This does not do justice to our hardworking doctors who have spent years in their studies and whose duty goes beyond the normal eight (8) hour workload.

The government has in effect escorted doctors out of the country making the Philippines the second-largest exporter of physicians, next to India, as per a World Health Organization (WHO) report. Filipino doctors have emigrated for higher-paying posts overseas. Consequently, the exodus of doctors is exacting a toll on the country's already second-rate health service.

This bill seeks to address this alarming outflow of doctors and its repercussions by increasing the salary of government physicians and providing additional incentives therefor. This bill aims to afford our government doctors the right to a decent pay and benefits long withheld from them. The incentives shall include loyalty service pay, transportation, representation, food, and medical allowances, and educational grant redound.

In view of the foregoing, immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
