EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 2555

Introduced by Representative Sharon S. Garin

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill forms part of the Comprehensive Tax Reform Program Package 2 plus. It seeks to increase the excise tax rates on distilled spirits to 22% from 20% ad valorem on the net retail price (NTP) per proof and a specific tax rate of P30 per liter from P23.40. The specific tax rate will then be increased by P5 every year until it reaches P45 in 2022, to increase by 7% annually beginning 2023.

In this bill also will levy on sparkling wines a 15% ad valorem per liter, which is not imposed in the present system. It is in addition to P650 specific tax per liter which shall be increase by 7% annually. On the other hand, still wines and carbonated wines with more than 14% alcohol will be taxed at P80 per liter with 7% increase annually.

For the fermented liquors, this bill seeks to increase to P28 per liter from P25.40 and the specific tax rate will increase to P32 in 2020; P34 in 2021; and P36 in 2022. The same will be increased by 7% annually, thereafter.

The increase tax rates is based on the factored-in inflation rate and the additional revenue raising effort of the government.

According to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, 70% of the total excise tax collection was collected from tobacco and cigarette products while only 30% was collected from alcohol products. This means that tobacco and cigarette products are heavily taxed than that of alcohol products because of the health effects. Tobacco and cigarette products have adverse health effects while alcohol is believed to have certain health benefits when drunk moderately.

This representation still believes that the tax rates on alcohol products have not yet saturated to achieve the much-needed revenue of the government.

In view of the foregoing, passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
