

REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Quezon City

EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. _____

Introduced by MAGDALO Party-List Representative
HON. MANUEL DG. CABOCHAN III

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Article XIV, Section 2(1) of the Constitution stipulates that the State shall establish, maintain, and support a complete, adequate, and integrated system of education relevant to the needs of the people and society. It is in the public interest to support unique opportunities for high-achieving and underachieving pupils in the public elementary schools who are identified as gifted and talented. Special efforts should be made to ensure that economically-disadvantaged pupils be provided with full participation in these unique opportunities.

However, the country's school system does not have adequate programs that go beyond identifying gifted children by nurturing them until they have completed their education. This bill seeks to improve the quality of existing programs for gifted and talented pupils and create learning centers catering specifically for children and youth with special needs.

In view of the foregoing, approval of this measure is earnestly sought.

ARTICLE II

DEFINITION OF TERMS

SEC. 4. Definition of Terms. – As used in this Act:

- (a) Basic education – refers to a program of instruction intended to meet the basic learning needs which provide the foundation on which subsequent learning can be based. It encompasses early childhood, kindergarten, elementary and secondary education as well as alternative learning systems for out-of-school learners and those with special needs;

1 (b) Child Find System – refers to the process of identifying, locating, and 2 evaluating every qualified child or youth with special needs so that the 3 concerned child development teachers/workers who are under the 4 jurisdiction of local government units (LGUs) can notify parents or 5 guardians of those who are not receiving public education services of the 6 right of their children to receive the same and facilitate such children's 7 integration into the school system;

8 (c) Children and youth with special needs – refer to children and 9 youth who are gifted or talented, with intellectual disabilities, learning 10 disabilities, mental, emotional or behavioral disorders, speech and 11 language sensory impairments, autism, long term physical or health 12 disabilities, deafblindness and multiple handicapping conditions which 13 in interaction with various barriers may hinder their full and effective 14 participation in society on an equal basis with others and are in need of 15 special education as well as services for rehabilitation. They differ from 16 the average children in neuropsychological characteristics, sensory and 17 cognitive abilities, neuromuscular or physical characteristics, and social 18 attributes to such an extent that the use of modified school practices or 19 special education services are required to develop them to maximum 20 capability;

21 (d) Disability – refers to 1) long-term physical, mental, intellectual 22 or sensory impairment that substantially limit one or more physiological or 23 anatomical function of an individual or activities of such individual; 2) 24 limitation or difficulty encountered by an individual in executing a task or 25 action; and 3) a participation restriction or problem experienced by an individual in involvement in life's situations. It does not entail a health problem but shall reflect the interaction between features of a person's body and features of society in which he lives as well as the difficulties the person has encountered to remove the environment and social barriers.

(e) Inclusive education – refers to a process of addressing and responding to the diverse needs of all learners by increasing participation in learning, cultural activities and community life, and reducing exclusion within and from education. It involves changes and modifications in content, approaches, structures and strategies, anchored on a common vision for all children of the appropriate age range and the conviction that it is the responsibility of the State to educate all children. It focuses on the achievement of high quality education for all learners and the all encompassing development of more inclusive societies.

(f) Individual Education Program (IEP) – refers to the systematic, purposive and developmental educational programming of curricular and instructional priorities and contents designed to meet a learner's special needs and aimed at ensuring mastery of target skills and behaviors. It specifies the services to be provided and how often; describes the learner's present level of performances and how the learner's disabilities affect academic performances; and specifies accommodations and modifications to be provided to the learner. An IEP must be designed to meet the unique educational needs of a child in the appropriate and least restrictive environment.

(g) Learning Resource Center (Center) – refers to the a teaching/learning support system for students, teachers school personnel and other

1 education stakeholders of children and youth with special needs. It
2 includes appropriate, accessible, disability-, cultural- and gender-sensitive 3 instructional learning material, tools, devices, gadgets, equipment to 4 facilitate and enhance learning; assessment tools and instruments to 5 evaluate development domains and specific areas of concern necessary in 6 determining appropriate services and placement decisions; medical, health 7 and allied professionals for care, rehabilitations and development of 8 learners.

9 (h) Least Restrictive Environment (LRE) – refers to the situation where a 10 learner, who has disability, is accorded the opportunity to be educated with 11 non-disabled peers to the greatest extent appropriate. The children and 12 youth with special needs should have access to the general education 13 curriculum, or any other program that non-disabled peers are able to 14 access. The children and youth with special needs shall be provided with 15 supplementary aids and services necessary to achieve educational goals if 16 place in a setting with non-disabled peers, and shall receive an appropriate
17 version of education and social benefits which non-disabled students 18 routinely receive in school.

19 (i) Private sector participation – refers to all forms of indispensable,
20 substantial and meaningful participation of private individuals,
21 partnerships, groups or entities, disabled people's organizations, 22 community-based organizations or non-government organizations, and 23 business and industry groups in the delivery of educational and 24 rehabilitative services for children and youth with special needs.

1 (j) Special Education (SPED) – refers to the customized instructional
2 program/service designed to meet the unique needs of individual children 3 and youth with special needs, which may necessitate the use of 4 supplementary aids and services and teaching strategies in classroom and 5 non-academic settings and includes instructions on physical and vocational 6 education, social skills development and travel training. It is geared 7 towards their integration into mainstream education and to prepare them as 8 independent and functioning members of society.

9 (k) Special Instructional Materials – refer to textbooks in Braille, large type, 10 audio, digital or any other medium or apparatus that convey information to 11 a student or otherwise contributes to the learning process.

12 (l) Universal Design for Learning – refers to a scientifically valid framework
13 for guiding educational practice established by Department of Education
14 (DepEd) that:

15 (1) Provides flexibility in the way information is presented, in the way
16 students respond or demonstrate knowledge and skills, and in the way 17 students are engaged; and

18 (2) Reduces barriers in instruction, provides appropriate accommodations,
19 supports mental and physical challenges and maintains high 20 achievement expectations for all students, including students with 21 disabilities and students who have limited English proficiency.

22 It also refers to a set of principles that guides the design of inclusive
23 classroom instruction and accessible course materials. The three principles
24 of UDL are:

- 1 (i) Recognition – refers to multiple methods of representation that give 2 learners a variety of ways to acquire information and build
3 knowledge;
- 4 (ii) Strategic Learning – refers to multiple means of student action and 5 expression that provide learners alternative modes for 6 demonstrating what they have learned; and
- 7 (iii) Affective Learning – refers to multiple modes of student
8 engagement that tap into learners’ interests, challenge them
9 appropriately and motivate them to learn.
