EXPLANATORY NOTE

Filipino farmers benefit from the assistance that government extends to them through agricultural development workers. Agriculturists, veterinarians, agricultural engineers, aquaculturists, extension workers, extensionists, nutritionists, agricultural technologists and other agricultural technicians maintain the government's linkages to farmers all over the country in pursuing the modernization of Philippine agriculture.

The delivery of services to farmers had been left considerably weakened and fragmented by the devolution of certain government functions to the local level and the ensuing coordination problems between the Department of Agriculture and Local Government Units (LGUs). Confronted with financial constraints, LGUs often dispense with the hiring of agriculturists at the city and municipal levels because these positions are optional in the Local Government Code of 1991. At the provincial level, the positions of Provincial/City/Municipal Agricultural Engineer, and Provincial Fishery Officer were not even created.

This bill seeks to affirm the rights of agricultural workers with provisions for their career development as a way of acknowledging their important role in agricultural modernization.

In view of the foregoing, early passage of this bill is earnestly requested.
