EXPLANATORY NOTE

At the drop of a hat or as soon as the slightest provocation is given, many youngsters would take their own lives as though it were the only way out of their dilemmas. For the most part, the reasons are superficial and would not warrant such drastic act as to commit suicide. On account of a mere failure in an exam; being starcrossed with romantic pursuit; or because of a simple rebuke from a parent; many young people nowadays commit such mortal sin in the sight of the Almighty.

Hence, the government should authorize instruction related to the prevention of suicide among youths as an integral part of health education.

A unified and strengthened institutional support from the family, the church and the academe must be undertaken and an institutional instruction specifically to avert the commission of suicide among the youth must be undertaken.

The immediate passage of this measure is sought for.
