HOUSE BILL NO. 4443

Introduced by Representative Gil "Kabarangay Jr."
A. Acosta

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Article XII, Section 2 of the 1987 Constitution provides that the State shall protect the nation's marine wealth in its archipelagic waters, territorial sea, and exclusive economic zone, and reserve its use and enjoyment exclusively to Filipino citizens. The Congress may, by law, allow small-scale utilization of natural resources by Filipino citizens, as well as cooperative fish farming, with priority to subsistence fishermen and fish- workers in rivers, lakes, bays, and lagoons.

The enactment of Republic Act 8435 or the Agriculture and Fishery Modernization Act (AFMA) adopted the principles to ensure that the poorer sectors of the society have equitable access to resources, income opportunities, basic and support services and infrastructure especially in areas where productivity is low as a means of improving their quality of life compared with other sectors of society where public investment in agriculture and fisheries must be put in place in order to assure efficiency and effectiveness in the use of scarce resources and thus, obtain optimal returns on its investment.

Palawan has long been the source of food and non-food-based resources that the whole country is enjoying. The vast oceans surrounding the island are proven to be a rich source of fishery products and are supplying major markets in the country.

Palawan's local fishermen have been harnessing these resources that ensure food security. While many of our fisher folks now enjoy the catch, the difficulty of having those catch processed and marketed to high end markets is obvious. The lack of facilities for post-harvest activities precludes the further development of fishery products that commands more value other than raw fresh produce.

The establishment of a fish port in Barangay Macarascas in the City of Puerto Princesa shall fulfil the mandates elucidated in Republic Act 8435 to modernize the agriculture and fishery sectors in the Philippines.

Once established, the fish port facilities will surely uplift the livelihood of fishermen and fish workers in Palawan; the facilities will likewise provide an avenue for food security, and the modernization of the sector will provide the sustainable harvest of resources and conservation of fishing grounds.

It is noteworthy that this legislative measure was filed by former Representative Gil "Kabarangay" P. Acosta, approved by the House, and transmitted to the Senate in the Seventeenth Congress.

Taking into account the points raised, immediate passage of this bill is hereby earnestly sought.
