EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Constitution recognizes the vital role of communication and information in nation-building. Public information inevitably creates awareness of significant issues and can also be a mechanism for the transparency of policies and programs of the government if used effectively. Being a critical part of democracy, it can only be efficiently channeled through a truly independent media.

In our country, media has been undeniably dominated by commercial or privately-owned companies that depend on advertising to be able to sustain itself. Consequently, the growth and the independence of our journalists are encumbered by practices and schemes that are primarily dictated by the economic interests of their proprietors or advertisers. The existing public broadcast system, on the other hand, does not enjoy the trust of the people as it is perceived as a propaganda vehicle of the incumbent administrations and hence, is deemed inutile in the effective delivery of broadcasting as a public good. Thus, important concepts of transparency and accountability are unquestionably compromised by the situation.

Recognizing the need to assert the idea of highest journalistic standards and the preservation of press freedom, this bill aims to establish a public service broadcasting system which shall function wholly independent of the governmental and commercial influences and free from political or other bias or interference. Through this measure, the Public Service Broadcast System (PSBS) shall be independent in all matters concerning the content of its output, the times and manner in which this is supplied, and in the management of its affairs. Moreover, this bill grants fiscal autonomy to the PSBS such that appropriations for the PSBS may not be reduced by the Legislature below the amount appropriated for the previous year, and after approval shall be automatically and regularly released. Further, this bill creates a Board of Directors whose membership is not appointed by the President. With the aforementioned provisions, this measure seeks to create a healthy distance between the media and the potential meddling arm of the State and commercial private interests. Of twin importance is the measure's provision of general program standards. Broadcasters must ensure that due impartiality and truthfulness are observed in news and other issues of public importance.

This bill, in essence, seeks to promote high quality public service broadcasting, the free flow of information in the public interest, and the responsible exercise of journalism through a broadcast channel that will fill the gap in the ratings-driven, commercially-dominated Philippine broadcast media and propaganda-driven state broadcasting system.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
