EXPLANATORY NOTE

No country in the world should be dumping site for another country's trash (i.e. garbage, scrap, residual waste, etc.). It shall therefore be banned for items, materials, or substances otherwise detrimental to health and environment to be loaded on container vans and be shipped or imported from foreign countries under any guise that such are recyclables, filling materials, or declared as other such stuff, as the case may be.

Under the proposed law, there shall be a general ban on the importation, shipment, entry, and dumping into the country of garbage, trash, or similar and other otherwise hazardous scrap or residual waste especially those shipped to the Philippines from other countries. The Philippines is simply not a dumping ground for such filth.

The case of the 50 container vans recently shipped into the country is cause for alarm for it sets precedent that if otherwise unchecked will trigger unprecedented problems that would impact directly to health and environment in terms of substances or materials that may possibly be of such detriment.

The proposed measure therefore seeks to address a health issue, an environment issue, and more importantly, the costs that it will impact on the economy of the country like congestion at the ports of container loads upon container loads of garbage, trash, or waste. No country could tolerate a situation of this kind and for to allow itself to be a dumping ground for such filth.

Shipments of trash must certainly be the proper subject of a more stringent and aggressive general ban, hence the proposed urgent measure.
