

Republic of the Philippines
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Quezon City

SEVENTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 3901

Introduced by Rep. Winston "Winnie" Castelo

EXPLANATORY NOTE

There is an unwritten law in the conduct of men and women who work in the bureaucracy, which though rules may have not been formally laid down, may just as effectively govern the general state of affairs in relation to the duties and responsibilities they are expected to perform as civil servants.

Since public employees are expected to manifest proper conduct during office hours, it is incumbent upon every employee or official to refrain from acts that would make them susceptible or vulnerable to get out of control. A good example of this is when there is a prevailing leniency for those who indulge in drinking liquor or other intoxicating beverage while in the performance of official function.

This act is inimical to civil service in that it tends to push employees or officials indulging in this improper vice or behavior to get drunk or otherwise intoxicated as to react or even cause violence upon others.

It is prescribed upon every public servant to abide by proper conduct at all times, hence this submission effectively now prohibits drinking in government offices or similar premises within the concerned government agency.
