Introduced by: Hon. Angelina "Helen" D.L. Tan, M.D.

AN ACT PROVIDING FOR A DENTAL SERVICE IN EVERY RURAL HEALTH UNIT THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY AND PROVIDING FUNDS THEREFOR

EXPLANATORY NOTE

It was reported that nearly nine out of 10 Filipinos are suffering from tooth decay (The Philippine Star, 87.4% of Pinoys suffering from tooth decay, 11 January 2014).

According to the Department of Health, tooth decay or dental carries and periodontal diseases are the two most common health problems in the country. The DOH said the Philippines lags far behind other countries in the Western Pacific region when it comes to oral health. The country is next to Brunei as the worst in oral health

Dental carries are commonly known as tooth decay and cavity, while periodontal disease is a condition where the tissue – gums, deeper supporting tissue and bone – around a tooth or teeth become infected and swollen.

It is unfortunate that dental or oral health seems to be among the least prioritized health-related concerns in the country, as a staggering 70 percent of Filipinos do not visit their dentists regularly. Of those who visit their dentists, 10 percent go to private dental clinics and 20 percent visit government clinics.

In 2005, problems related with oral hygiene and malady also account for the highest of incidence of absenteeism among school children, according to the records of the Department of Education.

In view thereof and in line with the Constitution's mandate of protecting and promoting the right to health of the people (Article II, Section 15) and to undertake appropriate health human resource development responsive to the country's needs and problems (Articles XIII, Section 12), this measure proposes the provision of dental service in each of the rural health units of the country.

For this reason, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
