AN ACT AMENDING SECTIONS 27 AND 71 OF REPUBLIC ACT NO. 6657, OTHERWISE KNOWN AS THE COMPREHENSIVE AGRARIAN REFORM LAW OF 1988 THEREBY LIFTING THE RESTRICTION ON THE RIGHT OF FARMER-BENEFICIARIES TO MORTGAGE AND/OR ENCUMBER THE LANDS AWARDED TO THEM UNDER THE COMPREHENSIVE AGRARIAN REFORM PROGRAM AND ALLOWING THE SUBMISSION OF THE CERTIFICATE OF LAND OWNERSHIP AWARD AS SUFFICIENT COLLATERAL FOR LOANS ENTERED INTO WITH BANKS AND/OR OTHER FINANCIAL INTERMEDIARIES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Awarding farm workers title to the lands they till is a step towards achieving genuine land reform. Nevertheless, the country's experience. With the implementation of the Comprehensive Agrarian Reform Law has shown that this approach does not fully secure our farm workers' livelihood and productivity. Indeed, many of them have found it difficult, if not, nearly impossible to maximize their shares due to deficient funding and the unavailability of credit.

Our government sought to address this problem by making credit 'more accessible through microfinance and other similar schemes. It has been noted, however, that credit accommodations extended under these programs are short-term and limited, and thus, unable to sustain our farm workers' pressing credit requirements. Therefore, if we truly intend to assist our farm workers obtain useful credit, we should undertake steps to strengthen their capability to avail of long-term and commercial loans from banking and other financial institutions.

This proposal, though laudable in its objective, is not as simple since the Comprehensive Agrarian Reform Law, bars farm workers from using the lands awarded to them as collateral for any loan transaction. This prohibition effectively impairs their right to avail of credit from different sources and consequently limits their options.

Lifting these restrictions in the Comprehensive Agrarian Reform Law would be a welcome reprieve to our farm workers. Not only will this enhance their chances of gaining credit but it will also equip them with the necessary tools to improve their living conditions. Because of these overriding benefits, we ask our distinguished colleagues to work with us for the immediate passage of this Bill.
