EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to establish a National High School in Barangay Molugan in the City of El Salvador, Province of Misamis Oriental. It is in aid of the Department of Education's mandate to implement the Basic Education Program throughout the country as mandated by the following laws: Republic Act 9155 (Governance of Basic Education Act of 2001) and Republic Act 10533 (Enhanced Basic Education Act of 2013).

The measure directly responds to the education needs of the young people in the Barangays of Molugan, Amoros, Sambulawan, Taytay, Ulaliman and Himaya, all in El Salvador City.

The Molugan National High School shall absorb the sizable number of elementary school graduates from feeder elementary schools in the said barangays. The limited number of high schools in the vicinity prevent access to secondary public education because majority of the area's families are poor, thereby making private secondary education a difficult option for them.

This bill enlivens the State's responsibility to provide its citizens access to education to practice in the area stated above. This is part of government's year-round efforts toward attaining a better life and future for its people.

The immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.

Approved,
