

REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 3351

Introduced by Representative Juan Miguel Macapagal Arroyo

AN ACT PROVIDING FOR A REVISED WILDLIFE RESOURCES CONSERVATION AND PROTECTION ACT, APPROPRIATING FUNDS THEREFOR AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Philippine wildlife species are natural treasures that deserve protection under the law hence we need to ensure its conservation and continued existence for future generations.

The Philippines is one of the seventeen (17) “mega-diverse” countries in the world which possess a very rich flora and fauna biodiversity thus Philippine wildlife species are globally important. Aside from renowned, iconic and unique wildlife species such as the Philippine eagle (Pithecophaga jefferyi), the Tamaraw (Bubalus mindorensis) and the Philippine tarsier (Carlito syrichta), the Philippines has about 133 terrestrial mammals, 239 birds, 241 reptiles, 98 amphibians, and 120 fishes species that exists only in our country.

Philippine flora and fauna, as well as the ecosystem they live in, serves as the country’s natural capital and provides a variety of services beneficial to the Filipino people. They also help in water purification, minimize soil erosion, lessens the effect of climate change, pollination and decomposition. Indeed, the benefits provided by wildlife are limitless and essential to a human life’s welfare. But despite of this, their existence continues to be threatened, consequently some species are on the verge of extinction. The illegal collection of wildlife genetic resources also deprives Filipinos of the monetary benefits from the development of products and technologies derived from these natural treasures.

Enacted in 2001, Republic Act No. 9147, otherwise known as the “Wildlife Resources Conservation and Protection Act” is the primary piece of legislation relative to wildlife. The Wildlife Act is a law on wildlife resource conservation and use and on biodiversity protection. It aims to ensure the continued existence of Philippine wildlife by prescribing measures to regulate human activities that directly affects/threatens wildlife and to promote ecological balance and enhance biological diversity.

After more than 17 years of implementation, the Wildlife Act is ripe for further strengthening and improvement in order to impose stronger and graver penalties to remove the legal loopholes exploited by illegal wildlife collectors and traders. It is also high time that the Wildlife Act be updated to comply with Philippine treaty obligations concerning wildlife under multilateral agreements such as the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES), the Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD), and the Convention on Migratory Species (CMS).

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
