House Bill No. 2510

Introduced by Congressman Dakila Carlo E. Cua

EXPLANATORY NOTE

In the 16th Congress, numerous bills were filed to further strengthen the economy by promoting the growth of pooled investments and the development of the capital market. Among those measures were House Bill (HB) 4036 and HB 6071 on Collective Investment Schemes Law (CISL), which were authored by the late Representative Enrique Cojuangco and the undersigned, respectively. Both bills were referred to the Committee on Economic Affairs and two technical working group meetings were conducted to refine the bill.

This bill, as filed, is the output of technical working group meetings, which the undersigned chaired. It seeks to promote investor protection by applying high governance standards in the establishment, management and operation of collective investment schemes (CIS). It will also promote the registration and sale of CIS securities in order to prevent abuse and protect the interests of the investing public.

This measure also recognizes the need to harmonize the regulatory and tax framework for all forms of Collective Investment Schemes (CIS). Countries, including the United Kingdom, Japan, Australia, Korea and Singapore, have adopted a single law to regulate all types of CIS. Presently, the Philippines has various laws governing investment companies (mutual funds), unit investment trust funds ("UITFs"), and separate account funds or variable unit linked insurance products.

These investment products are basically the same but differ in regulatory requirements (regulatory arbitrage) and taxation mainly because of differences in their governing laws. This regulatory and tax arbitrage give rise to an uneven playing field which will prove unfavorable to the growth of the industry. More importantly, such arbitrage will result in uneven levels of protection to the investing public.

Establishing a comprehensive regulatory and tax framework for all CIS products will eventually lead to a more competitive environment for the CIS industry and provide enhanced and uniform levels of protection to the investing public.

This is also relevant in making the Philippines competitive as well as compliant in the light of ASEAN integration. The ASEAN CIS framework allows units of an ASEAN CIS authorized in its domicile of the CIS (home jurisdiction) to be offered in other participating countries (host jurisdiction) under a streamlined authorization process, provided that the ASEAN CIS satisfies the set of common standards. This bill can be that vehicle that will harmonize our CIS law with ASEAN CIS.

In view of the foregoing, approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
