House Bill No. 4159

Introduced by

Existing collaboration and partnerships between the State and faith-based organizations have contributed to a more open and closer coordination in creating and implementing lasting solutions to many current social needs and challenges, maximizing the positive impact of government programs, encouraging grassroots participation and improving of the quality of life in several local communities in the country.

While Article II, Section 6 of the Constitution provides for the separation of the Church and the State as distinct societies directed toward different ends, both, however, aim at achieving the common good of the human community and building the social cohesion and unity of the Filipino nation. Thus, the State recognizes the important role of faith-based communities in the alleviation of poverty, the upholding of justice and preservation of peace and order, strengthening individuals and families, ensuring the sustainable development of communities and providing support and services to vulnerable populations.

Article XIII, Section 16 of the Constitution provides that the right of the people and their organizations to effective and reasonable participation at all levels of social, political and economic decision-making shall not be abridged and that the State shall, by law, facilitate the establishment of adequate consultation mechanisms.

Faith-based and other community organizations are vital to our nation's ability to address the needs of low-income and other underserved persons and communities. Few institutions are closer to the people than our faith-based and other neighborhood organizations. It is therefore critical that the government strengthen the ability of such organizations and other nonprofit institutions in our neighborhoods to deliver services effectively in partnership with the government and with other private organizations, while preserving our fundamental constitutional commitments guaranteeing the equal protection of the laws and the free exercise of religion and forbidding the establishment of religion.

This bill intends to create the National Council for Faith-Based and Community Partnerships, which will serve as a bridge for the government and faith-based organizations to more effectively serve Filipinos in need. Composed of representatives from various faith-based organizations, it shall be responsible for establishing closer collaboration and implementing partnership programs directed towards vulnerable populations in order to help them survive and thrive.

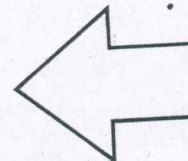

This proposed legislation recognizes that it is essential for the State to identify, define, establish and institutionalize strategies for increased partnerships in order to improve the capacities of faith-based organizations and afford them the fullest opportunity to better respond to our country's pressing social needs as a partner for change and a complement to government programs, in a manner consistent with our existing laws and values.

Faith-based and other community organizations are indispensable in meeting the needs of poor Filipinos especially those from the marginalized sector. While the government cannot be replaced by such organizations, but it can and should welcome them as partners. The paramount goal is compassionate results, and private and charitable community groups, including faith-based ones, should have the fullest opportunity permitted by law to collaborate more closely, especially in strengthening families and communities, and overcoming the burden of poverty. This delivery of social services must be results oriented and should value the bedrock principles of pluralism, non-discrimination, evenhandedness, and neutrality.

In view of these considerations, approval of this bill is earnestly recommended.
