House Bill No. 1632

INTRODUCED BY: HON. GWENDOLYN F. GARCIA

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Taxation without representation, it is said, is tyranny. But no less inequitable is representation without taxation.

Under the Local Government Code of 1991, however, this situation obtains in the case of component cities of provinces, which, while retaining the right to vote for elective provincial positions, are not required to share in the burden of government by way of taxation. Under the Section 271 of Republic Act No. 7160, otherwise known as the Local Government Code of 1991, component cities – unlike municipalities – are not required to share the proceeds of real property taxes with the province.

This is onerous for a number of reasons. First, a local government unit's being, or conversion into, a component city does not relieve the province of its obligation to maintain provincial infrastructure such as roads and bridges within that component city, and its mandatory assistance to its barangays.

Second, a province is, under Section 16 of the same Code, mandated to protect and uphold the general welfare of all its inhabitants, including those residing in component cities, which do not, under present laws, share in the burden of government.

Third, it is onerous to municipalities, which, more often than not, are smaller and less financially capable than component cities, and are ironically mandated to exclusively share the burden of government within the province.

Clearly, Section 271 of the Local Government Code should be amended to correct this onerous situation, by making component cities share, as they must, the proceeds of real property taxes with the province.

Thus, early passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
