EXPLANATORY NOTE

In 1990, the Philippine Congress enacted Republic Act No. 6957, the first BOT law in Asia. The BOT law significantly increased private investment in infrastructure in the Philippines by promoting private sector participation.

The BOT law was further amended by Republic No. Act 7718 in 1994 in order to provide for an increased number of variants of BOT contractual arrangements. Two decades later, there is a need to further amend the law to create an enhanced policy framework that is responsive to the current economic environment.

In identifying the needed reforms, this bill seeks to build from the experiences of the government in areas involving BOT projects. The proposed amendments aim to encourage private sector participation in public infrastructure projects. It also aims to further strengthen the basic legal framework in undertaking Public-Private Partnership (PPP) projects in the Philippines to aid the government in addressing and implementing necessary infrastructure development.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
