EXPLANATORY NOTE

Women and children are two sectors that suffer from marginalization and discrimination in present society. They are placed at a disadvantageous position on account of gender and age. The attached bill aims to uplift the lives of suffering women and children by strengthening and expanding the scope of social welfare extended to them.

The Constitution has recognized the plight of women and children. A number of provisions are devoted to them. For one, the rights of women form part of Article XIII of the Constitution which covers Social Justice and Human Rights. In the case of children, Article XV Section 3 (2) of the Constitution specifically states that:

The right of children to assistance, including proper care and nutrition, and special protection from all forms of neglect, abuse, cruelty, exploitation and other conditions prejudicial to their development.

Moreover, the Philippines is also bound by international agreements produced in the United Nations that it has agreed to. Two examples are the Convention of the Rights of the Child (CRC) and Convention on the Elimination of all forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW). As a signatory to these agreements, it has committed to the advancement of the rights and welfare of women and children.

This bill recognizes the need to bolster the capacity of the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) in mitigating and alleviating the ill effects of marginalization and discrimination experienced by women and children. The current facilities are stretched to cover several provinces or cities; some are assigned to cover more than one region. The facilities have to be made more accessible to those who are in dire need of the services. To realize this, it is the purpose of this legislation that there will be at least one shelter for women and children established in each city in the National Capital Region and each province in the Philippines.

The shelters will serve as temporary refuge and support but are not limited to the following: street children, abandoned children, women and children who are victims of physical and sexual abuse, homeless or those displaced by armed conflict. These shelters will also serve the purpose of uplifting the conditions and rehabilitating the lives of those under its care.

This proposed measure is a refiling of the same bill during the 15th and 16th Congress and reflects the changes made during the deliberations in the Committee on Women and Gender Equality.
