EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to establish the law to govern the conduct of the synchronized national, local and ARMM elections of May 2019 and succeeding elections every three (3) years thereafter.

For a number of years, there has been expressed, in a number of measures, a legislative policy to automate, to some degree, elections in this country. It is a policy born out of a desire to cleanse the process of some of the decades-old problems that plague it: padded voter's registries, disenfranchisement of voters, the general slow and tedious process of manual counting, canvassing and certification of results, the attendant fraud, and the creeping lack of faith in the entire electoral system.

In 1997, Republic Act No. 8436 was enacted into law authorizing the COMELEC to use an automated election system. Then Republic Act 9369 was passed in January 2007 to finally enable the COMELEC to conduct automated election in 2010 and in the succeeding election exercise.

These landmark measures ushered in the high sense of hope that the country's electoral system will finally be insulated from the numerous ills that have perennially plagued the manual system. Hopes were high that an automated system will ensure the country's elections to truly reflect the sovereign will of the Filipino people.

However, all these are now wishful thinking as the conduct of the last three "automated" national and local elections proved more disappointing than fulfilling. The failures and shortcomings of the system that was utilized were so grave that they cast serious doubts on its integrity and credibility.

Section 2 of R.A No. 9369 defines the automated election (AES) "as a system using appropriate technology which has been demonstrated in the voting, counting, consolidating, canvassing, and transmission of election results, and other electoral process."

Unfortunately, the 2010, 2013 and 2016 ‘automated’ elections were illegal and constitutionally infirm electoral processes due to the refusal or failure of COMELEC to comply with the provisions of Republic Act No. 9369 for reasons known only to the COMELEC and its partner, SMARTMATIC.

To be specific, the Precinct Count Optical System (PCOS) used during the 2010 and 2013 national and local elections, and the Vote Counting Machine (VCM) used during the national, local and ARMM elections were mere counting and transmission machines, as opposed to the voting machine prescribed by R.A 9369, precisely to serve the purpose of the law – automation from voting to canvassing.

This essential requirement has been totally ignored to the point of ignominy. The voting was manual, i.e., the voter manually filled the ballot by shading a small oval before the name of the candidate on the ballot, while the counting and transmission, however, are a different story.

Moreover, while the concern about the lack of a voter-verified paper audit trail (VVPAT) in the PCOS machine was addressed by the VCM, the electronic display thereon did not comply with the specifications of Section 13 of R.A 9369, which provides:

"Official Ballot. - The Commission shall prescribe the format of the electronic display and/or the size and form of the official ballot, which shall contain the titles of the position to be filled and/or the proposition to be voted upon in an initiative, referendum or plebiscite. Where practicable, electronic displays must be constructed to present the names of all candidates for the same position in the same page or screen, otherwise, the electronic displays must be constructed to present the entire ballot to the voter, in a series of sequential pages, and to ensure that the voter sees all of the ballot options on all pages before completing his or her vote and to allow the voter to review and change all ballot choices prior to completing and casting his or her ballot".

Sadly, while the VCM was equipped with an electronic display, it merely displayed the voter's choices in a mere split-second, effectively depriving the voter of an opportunity to verify if his/her votes were indeed considered by the machine, or to review his/her ballot and make corrections thereto before approving its receipt by the VCM.

Needless to state, this perfunctory compliance still leaves a lingering doubt in the minds of the voters of whether their votes were counted or if they were counted properly to reflect their true choices.

All told, the last three elections were conducted in palpable disregard and contravention of applicable laws and the right of suffrage, casting serious doubts on the integrity and credibility of the electoral exercise and any forthcoming election, plebiscite, referendum or initiative that may be conducted under the so-called system. The concept of automation and its noble intentions thus remain a figment of the imagination.

This Constitutional body lamentably brushes aside as trivial and negligible the many allegations of cheating and fraud under the AES, insisting on the integrity of the non-compliant system, boasting even of saving the government billions of pesos because the voting machine is more expensive than the counting machine that it has been using.

To address this, this representation hereby proposes a more secure yet less expensive alternative than the prevailing system in order to leave no doubt that the true will of the electorate is upheld.

Considering that COMELEC has already demonstrated its inability to implement the automation contemplated and mandated by RA 9369, Congress needs to come up with a viable, less costly, simpler and more acceptable alternative for the coming May 2016 election. The alternative should be able to strike a balance between the acknowledged benefits of electronic technology and the time-honored familiarity and proven acceptability of manual elections. It should pass constitutional scrutiny and be at par with the hopes, and the faith, of the sovereign people who possess the sacred right to elect their leaders.

This bill offers such an alternative. Hence, approval of this bill is earnestly requested.

SEC. 5. Printing of Official Ballots. The printing of official ballots shall be exclusively done by the National Printing Office and may not be contracted out or outsourced to any private or public person, entity, or agency, despite claims of better or higher capacity to do so, not even under a valid accreditation pursuant to any law, rules or regulation.

SEC. 6. Authentication of Ballot and Signature of Chairman and Watchers at the Back of Every Ballot. - In every case before delivering an official ballot to the voter, the chairman of the board of election inspectors, in the presence of the poll watchers and the voter, scan the ballot under an official bar code scanner to authenticate the same and thereafter the Chairman and the watchers for the dominant majority party and dominant minority party shall affix their signatures at the back thereof. Failure to so authenticate shall be noted in the minutes of the board of election inspectors and shall constitute an election offense punishable under Section 263 and 264 of the Omnibus Election Code. The same manner of authentication of the ballots under the bar code scanner shall likewise be observed before reading the ballot for counting the votes after the closing of the polls.

SEC. 7. Manner of Counting votes. In addition to the requirement in the fourth paragraph of Section 12 of the Republic Act No. 6646 and Section 210 of the Omnibus Election Code, in reading the official ballots during the counting, the chairman, the poll clerk and the third member shall assume such positions as to provide the watchers and the members of the public as may be conveniently accommodated in the polling place, an unimpeded view of the ballot being [ready] READ by the chairman, of the election return and the tally board being simultaneously accomplished by the, poll clerk and the third member respectively, without touching any of these election documents. The table shall be cleared of all unnecessary writing paraphernalia. Any violation of this requirement shall constitute an election offense punishable under Section 263 and 264 the Omnibus Election Code BEFORE THE START OF THE COUNTING, THE CHAIRMAN SHALL FIRST ASCERTAIN WHETHER THE BACK OF EVERY BALLOT CONTAINS THE SIGNATURES OF THE CHAIRMAN AND WATCHERS AS REQUIRED BY SECTION 5 HEREOF. ANY BALLOT WITHOUT SUCH SIGNATURES SHALL BE REJECTED.

- a. The chairman shall first read the votes for national positions and party list choices, and the necessary election returns shall be filled out for such positions only, thereby reducing the time for counting, as well as the size of paper to be utilized for the election returns. Thereafter, the members of the Board shall terminate the counting and prepare the election returns as they await distribution to the authorized watchers, as provided under Section 8 hereof.
- b. After the reading of the votes for the national positions and the party list, the Chairman shall then proceed with the reading of the votes for the local positions and the corresponding election return shall be filled out and prepared and distributed as provided in Section 8 hereof.

Any violation of this Section, or any of its pertinent portions, shall constitute an election offense and shall be penalized in accordance with Batas Pambansa Blg. 881.

SEC. 8. Counting of Votes to be Public. - As soon as the voting is finished, the board of election inspectors shall publicly count in the polling place the votes cast and ascertain the results. The board may rearrange the physical set up of the polling place for the counting or perform any other activity with respect to the transition from vote counting. However, it may do so only in the presence of the watchers and within close view of the public. At all times, the ballot boxes and all election documents and paraphernalia shall be within close view of the watchers and the public.

The board of election inspectors shall not adjourn or postpone or delay the count until it has been fully completed, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

The Commission, in the interest of free, orderly, and honest election, may authorize the board of election inspectors to count the votes and to accomplish the election return and other forms prescribed under the code in any other place within a public building in the same municipality or city on account of imminent danger of widespread violence or similar causes of comparable magnitude: Provided, That the transfer shall be recommended in writing by the board of election inspectors by unanimous vote and endorsed in writing by the majority of watchers present: Provided, further, that the said public building shall not be located within the perimeter of or inside a military or police camp, reservation, headquarters, detachment or field office nor within the premises of a prison or detention bureau or any law enforcement or investigation agency.

Any violation of this section, or any of its pertinent portions, shall constitute an election offense and shall be penalized in accordance with Batas Pambansa Blg. 881.

SEC. 9. Election Returns. - The board of election inspectors shall prepare the election returns simultaneously with the counting of votes in the polling places as prescribe in Section 210 OF BP BILANG 881. The recording of vote shall be made as prescribed in said section. The entry of votes in words and figures for each candidate shall be closed with the signature and the clear imprint of the thumbmark of the right hand of all the members, likewise to be affixed in full view of the public, immediately after the last vote recorded or immediately after the name of the candidate who did not receive any vote.

The returns shall also show the date of the election, the polling place, the barangay and the city or municipality in which it was held, the total number of ballots found in the compartment for valid ballots, the total number of valid ballots withdrawn from the compartment for spoiled ballots WHICH [because they] were erroneously placed therein, the total number of excess ballots, the total number of marked or void ballots, and the total numbers of votes obtained by each candidate, writing out the said number in words and figures and, at the end thereof, the board of election inspectors shall certify that the contents are correct. The returns for national positions and party list shall be accomplished in a single sheet of paper, but if this is not possible, additional sheets may be used which shall be prepared in the same manner as the first sheet and likewise certified by the board of election inspectors.

The Commission shall take steps so that the entries on the first copy of the election returns are clearly reproduced on the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth copies thereof, and for the purpose the Commission shall use a special kind of paper.

Section 10. Digital Election Returns. Simultaneous to the counting of the votes and the filling out of the election returns, there shall be an independent technician who shall enter the votes, as they are counted, into a digital spread sheet, which shall serve as the Digital Election Return, in a laptop provided for the purpose, which spread sheet shall also be projected on a screen while the entries are recorded in real time for the watchers to validate and the public to see.

The Digital Election Return shall be equipped with such encryption and programs to ensure that the technician, or any person, cannot make alterations in any of the entries therein, or the results of the counting, except in case of discrepancy with the manual election return as provided below. Likewise, the laptop shall be configured to confine its operation only for this purpose and to transmit the results of the counting to a secure server as hereinafter prescribed.

Immediately upon the accomplishment of the manual election return for national positions, the poll clerk shall announce the posting of the second copy of the election return on a wall with sufficient lighting within the premises of the polling place or counting center. He shall then proceed to do the same in the presence of the other members of the Board, the watchers and those present in the polling place or counting center. Without delay and, when feasible, he shall secure an image of the election return using a secured data capturing device and immediately thereafter, while in the premises of the polling place or counting center, directly print thirty (30) copies of the manual election return.

Likewise, the independent technician, without turning off the projected results on the screen, shall print out one copy of the digital election return as filled out, and the members of the board and the poll watchers shall be asked to authenticate the same by comparing the results as printed with the second copy of the manual election return as posted and announced. Should the results of the digital election return be found to be the same as that of the manual, the members of the board and the poll watchers shall affix their signatures and thumb prints in the spaces provided and the same shall be placed in the compartment for valid ballots in the ballot box.

Should there be any discrepancy between the digital and the manual election returns, the results in the manual election return shall prevail. However, for purposes of electronic transmission, the Chairman, the poll clerk and the third member shall encode their digital signatures into the laptop to allow the necessary corrections in the digital election return to conform to the results as reflected in the manual election return. The erroneous digital return shall be torn by half lengthwise and placed inside the compartment for spoiled ballots inside the ballot box.

Thereafter, the technician shall print another copy of the digital election return and shall allow the board and the poll watchers to scrutinize and authenticate the same as prescribed above. When there is no more discrepancy in the results, the board and the poll watchers shall affix their signatures and thumb prints, and the correct digital election return shall be placed in the compartment for valid ballots inside the ballot box.

Finally, the board shall again enter their respective digital signatures to write-protect the memory card containing the digital election return and the image of the manual election return, and authorize the electronic transmission of the results to the various secure servers as prescribed herein.

Once the printouts for the image of the manual election return have been produced, the poll clerk shall call the other members of the board to authenticate each print copy by closely comparing the same with the election return posted on the wall in the presence of the watchers and within view of the public. If the Board finds each print a faithful reproduction of the election return, all members thereof shall annotate and sign a certification to that effect on the bottom front of the print.

Each certified printed copy shall be placed in an envelope and distributed as herein provided. Designated recipients of the certified print copies may receive their copies at the polling place or counting center.

Immediately upon the accomplishment of the election returns for local position, the second copy of the same shall be posted on a wall with sufficient lighting within the premises of the polling place.

The digital election return shall be printed out and authenticated as prescribed above for the national positions.

The other copies of election returns for both national and local position shall be sealed in the presence of the watchers and the public, and placed in the proper envelope, which shall likewise be sealed and distributed as herein provided.

Any election return with a separately printed serial number or which bears a different serial number from that assigned to the particular polling place concerned shall not be canvassed AND SHALL BE DECLARED AS SPURIOUS AND FAKE, and shall be a ground for a pre-proclamation controversy. This is to be determined by the board of canvassers prior to its canvassing on the basis of the certification of the provincial, city or municipal treasurer as to the serial number of the election return assigned to said voting precinct, unless the Commission shall order in writing for its canvassing, stating the reason for the variance in serial numbers.

If the signatures and/or thumbmarks of the members of the board of election inspectors or some of them as required in this provision are missing in the election returns, the board of canvassers may summon the members of the board of election inspectors concerned to complete the returns.

The citizen's arm is mandated to present for perusal its copy of the election return to the board of election canvassers upon the request of any interested candidate.

Any violation of this election or its pertinent portion, shall constitute an election offense and shall be penalized in accordance with Batas Pambansa Blg. 881
