House Bill No. 1101

Introduced by Representative Ron P. Salo

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Transportation plays an essential role in the economic development of a country. An efficient, safe, and reliable transport system is generally acknowledged as a necessary precondition for the full participation of remote communities in national development.

However, according to the World Health Organization (WHO), about 1.25 million people die annually because of transport accidents. Around 10,000 deaths occur in the Philippines annually, with road accidents comprising the highest number. There is a need to improve the safety standards in all forms of transportation in order for these accidents to be minimized, if not outright prevented.

Developed countries like the USA, Canada, Japan, United Kingdom, and Australia have created independent and separate bodies that handle civil transportation investigations in their respective countries. The most important output of these transportation bodies are the safety recommendations that help prevent these accidents in the future.

This bill seeks to create the Philippine Transportation Safety Board (PTSB) which shall conduct a thorough and impartial investigation of accidents relating to transportation for purposes of creating improved safety standards that may minimize, if not prevent, occurrences of such accidents in the future. It is necessary to have an independent body that will provide safety measures and recommendations to ensure the safety of the public.

In view of the foregoing, the approval of this bill is urgently sought.
